DNR's history is not disposable, either.

MARYLAND DEPARTMENT OF NATURAL RESOURCES

Preserving DNR's Heritage

Celebrating 100+ years of natural resource conservation in Maryland

- 1868: State Oyster Police Force
- 1896: State Geological Survey
- 1898: State Game Warden
- 1906: Forestry and Parks
- 1916: Conservation Commission
- 1922: Conservation Department
- 1939: Dept. of Game and Inland Fish
- 1941: Board of Natural Resources
- 1969: Dept. of Natural Resources

The Problem

- No central effort within DNR to evaluate, inventory, and preserve its historic artifacts
- Individuals within units “squirrel” stuff away in offices or private residences
- When storage runs out or people retire, irreplaceable artifacts and documents often go to the dumpster

Who are we?

- Committee for Maryland Conservation History

- Mission: Preserve, promote and interpret the legacy of natural resource conservation in Maryland.
- Formed in 2004 to prepare for the Forestry & Parks Centennial
- Now open to any DNR unit with significant history and heritage

What needs preserving?

- Artifacts, documents, photographs, etc. related to the legacy of natural resource conservation in Maryland

Achieving One DNR

- We need to understand who we are as an agency, where we have been and where we are going
- History helps create a shared vision for the future
- Pride in our agency helps foster professional commitment
- Public understanding of our agency and history enhances involvement in conservation

Next Steps

- Involve additional DNR units.
- Consolidate artifacts into one state facility.
 - Summer intern inventorying DNR artifacts at identified locations around the state.
 - Lawson Building identified for use as artifact storehouse, workspace, and exhibit space (needs renovation).
- Get recognition at the Secretary level.
- Develop public programming to promote natural resource protection and conservation.

Public programming

- Interpretive programs at state parks
- Connecting children with conservation history
- Exhibits
- Publications

NOW is the perfect time

- Current focus on One DNR
 - Our history builds our identity as an agency
- Rare opportunities
 - Original cannon used by Oyster Police is for sale
- Upcoming retirements
 - Save our heritage from the dumpster!
